

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

A little girl of thirteen out West has been presented by her father with a small patch of 7,000 acres in a corner of the back yard in play at garrisoning.

Boston is reveling in the beauties of autumn influences. The disease usually works around there about this season and hangs on throughout the year.

A defaulting bank cashier in Maine says that speculation had nothing to do with his downfall. He could not live or sleep at night for fear of losing $100,000 a year when he had to make his losses.

Leavenworth, Kansas, is practically bankrupt; besides appropriating ten thousand dollars, the officers offer to house and lame one hundred destitute Chicago families.

The New York Tribune offers a complete newspaper office to its Chicago namesake; which is plain, practical, benevolent, benevolent worthy of the distinguished agriculturist, H. G.

So much has been made of Horace Greeley as a farmer, that the Louisville Courier-Journal proposes that "these ball shall be abolished and Greely revised the national game."

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

After long solicited researches, eminent French savans declare that the excessive use of brandy and of absinthe differ in results, brandy producing tremors and delirium, while absinthe produces epilepsy.

Dr. Lewis declares that the present system of employing doctors is wrong, and advises people to make contracts with them at $200 a year for each family, and a deduction of two dollars for each case of sickness.

Warren Hussey, of Salt Lake City, brother of Preston Hussey, of Terre Haute, the wealthiest man of his age in America, is thirty-eight years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

GENERAL NOTES

PERSONALS.—Resounding the fact that in one of the provinces of India during the year one hundred and eighty-three persons were killed by tigers, twenty-one by cheetahs and panthers, seven by bears, ten by leopards, three wild dogs, four by elephants, and three by alligators, the Half Moon Gazette exclaims: "All the daughter of India is more terrible to realize than the streets of London than are killed by the tigers of Madras. Cat-hunting is far more destructive than elephants."

The largest single coal supplier in Pennsylvania is A. Farnie, of Hazleton, who began life a poor man, and is worth $5,000,000.

A defaulting bank cashier in Maine says that speculation had nothing to do with his downfall. He could not live or sleep at night for fear of losing $100,000 a year when he had to make his losses.

Leavenworth, Kansas, is practically bankrupt; besides appropriating ten thousand dollars, the officers offer to house and lame one hundred destitute Chicago families.

The New York Tribune offers a complete newspaper office to its Chicago namesake; which is plain, practical, benevolent, benevolent worthy of the distinguished agriculturist, H. G.

So much has been made of Horace Greeley as a farmer, that the Louisville Courier-Journal proposes that "these ball shall be abolished and Greely revised the national game."

Prince Barnard receives as many as one thousand letters daily from persons whom he does not know at all. He has declared his intention not to answer any more letters of this description.

The Louisiana State Auditor publishes a weekly column, "The Chamber," in which he largely bluster in the sugar-growing district of the State, and are expected to arrive at an early day.

A Jamesville man, eighty years old, was born when his father was twenty-eight, and he wants to know if there is another man living whose father was born one hundred and sixty-five years ago.

Garibaldi some time ago invested what little money he possessed in Italian bonds and they have declined so much that he cannot pay off a mortgage on his humble homestead at Capri, and his creditors threaten to sell his home at auction.

It is reported that King Charles of Sweden is about to marry a daughter of the King of Denmark. If so there will be a new genealogical puzzle, for the King of Sweden's daughter is already married to the King of Denmark's son; the new bridegroom will therefore become the son-in-law of the King of Denmark.

Grace Greenwood, in one of her letters to the Appleton Journal, speaks of the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela, in search for treasure supposed to have been lost by the sinking of the Spanish ship of war San Pedro de Alcantara, half a century ago, when the wreck was found in the sea between Captain Kid and Sixteen-string Jack, was really so gentle in his youth that, was named him "Sister."

It is reported that the laborers had become dissatisfied, and complained that they had been deceived in the arrangement or contract under which they had been placed.

Large advice from the American expedition to the coast of Venezuela,